TESTIMONY PROVIDED FOR THIS FOSTER CARE REVIEW

The Case Permanency Plan (CPP) identifies family strengths and areas of concern. The FCRB was provided with the following testimony during this review in regard to the strengths and concerns related to the CPP domains.

CHILD WELL-BEING

(Child's mental health, behavior, relationship with peers, school performance, motivation/cooperation to stay with family; relationship with caregivers, relationship with siblings)

Jackson completed a 30 day stay at the Wabashaw Mental Health Institute for an evaluation. He was moved to Residential Treatment on 10/27/06. He is in 5th grade and now attends the on-campus school at the facility. Since his move, his mother has not yet been to visit him. Crissy Jacobs (DHS) reported that she has been in contact with James Donovan (Residential Treatment staff) and he has reported Jackson is having a difficult time adjusting to the placement and program. Concerns reported include physical aggression, refusal to perform program expectations and being disrespectful to staff and peers. He remains on Level 1-1.

PARENTAL CAPABILITIES

(Supervision of child, disciplinary practices, development/enrichment, mental health, physical health, use of drugs/alcohol)

Amanda Myers reported that she believes the children should be able to return to her care. She reported that she needs to do a psychological evaluation, meet with Cindy Malcolm, find a job and DHS wants her to go to gambling/substance abuse classes. She does not think she has a gambling or substance abuse problem. She likes to go to the casino with her sister for some time away but it doesn't mean she has an addiction. She voiced frustration that the case is not moving forward to having the children returned to her. Ms. Myers reported that she kicked her family members out of the home because they were not helping take care of her ill father. DHS did not want all of them in the same home so she took care of that issue.

Ms. Jacobs reported that DHS has ongoing concerns about mental health issues for Ms. Myers. She will call and leave messages on Ms. Jacobs' voicemail at all hours of the night and sounds very depressed. On a positive note, Ms. Myers has been going to the local mental health counseling center for therapy and medication management. Ms. Myers is reportedly taking her medication as prescribed. DHS needs to see more consistency and stability from Ms. Myers before they can discuss a trial home visit.

FAMILY SAFETY

(Physical abuse of child, sexual abuse of child, emotional abuse of child, neglect of child, domestic violence)

Ms. Jacobs reported that the children had made allegations that they were physically abused by their mother at the onset of the case. There were also reports that the children were left home alone with little to no food in the home. There is a founded child abuse report against Amanda Myers for denial of critical care: failure to provide proper supervision. A safety plan is in place for family interactions and contact between the children and their mother.

FAMILY INTERACTIONS

(Bonding with child, expectations of child, mutual support within family, relationship between parents and caregivers)

Cindy Malcolm (FSRP) provides supervised visitation for Amanda Myers and her children. Since Jackson was moved to Residential Treatment, Ms. Myers has not been there to visit him despite requests by staff for her to be involved.

Sibling visits are more difficult to arrange now that they are in three different placements. Miki Getz (CASA Advocate) reported that she has only been on the case for a little less than two months. When she meets with the children, she makes video clips of them to share with their mother and siblings. The children seem to enjoy this but it is not the same as having face-to-face interactions which Ms. Getz believes is important for the children and would like to see this be arranged as quickly as possible. Jackson has had limited contact with his sisters since he was removed from the foster home back in July.

HOME ENVIRONMENT

(Housing stability, safety in community, habitability, food/nutrition, financial management, personal hygiene, transportation, learning environment, income/employment)

Ms. Myers reported that she continues to look for a job but has not had any leads lately. Her income is tight since the children were removed. Ms. Malcolm reported that budgeting and job searching are addressed during FSRP sessions. She tries to meet with Ms. Myers once a week; however, Ms. Myers is not always home during scheduled appointment times. She would like to see more consistency in keeping appointments to work through identified issues and skill development.

OTHER INFORMATION PROVIDED FOR TODAY'S REVIEW:

James Donovan (Residential Treatment Care Coordinator) submitted the following update via email dated 11/29/06:

"Since Jackson's placement in residential treatment, he has struggled with following the routine and expectations of the program. He refuses direction, will not actively engage in treatment, and has displayed some episodes of physical aggression against peers. He is on Level 1, 1 of a 4 Level Program. Jackson would like his mother to visit him at the facility. He misses her and his sisters. Phone contact can be arranged but Ms. Myers needs to call and speak with Mr. Donovan about Jackson's care and treatment plan and then they will set up a phone schedule. Involving Ms. Myers in Jackson's treatment may help him better settle into the program. He is in the on-campus school and seems to be doing well academically."

NEW FCRB RECOMMENDATIONS:

The permanency goal for Jackson is reunification. The FCRB supports this goal.

For DHS/Providers:

- To schedule sibling interactions at least once a month.

For Ms. Myers:

- To keep all interaction and service appointments during this next reporting period.
- To call Mr. Donovan to arrange for phone contact with Jackson once a week.
- To begin a gambling/substance abuse treatment program within the next 30 days.
- To cooperate with a psychological evaluation within 60 days.
- To obtain employment.
